

AUTHOR VISIT

Dr. Gwendolyn Goldsby Grant

In partnership with the Gloria Pointer Foundation's 2013 Celebration of Hope, Cleveland Public Library presents Dr. Gwendolyn Goldsby Grant. The Celebration of Hope honors unsung heroes who are committed to stopping violence and saving America's children, raises awareness and fosters community dialogue aimed at creating positive change in our communities.

Saturday,
December 14, 2013
3:00 p.m.

Known as "The Energizer," Dr. Grant's exciting and engaging presentations never fail to leave her audience uplifted and motivated. Her message of hope and empowerment speaks to what she calls the mind-heart-hand connection. Dr. Grant believes and teaches that "whatever the mind can conceive and the heart believe, the hands can achieve."

Dr. Grant is the author of the best-selling book The Best Kind of Loving: a Black Woman's Guide to Finding Intimacy and was the Essence Magazine advice columnist for over 25 years. Her monthly column "Between Us" was read by over 8 million readers. Dr. Grant has also hosted a mental health radio talk show and regularly appears on television and radio.

Families who have been victimized by violence are encouraged to attend this event.

For more information call 216-623-2921.

